The Purchaser should pay the import and export duties, taxes and other charges and is responsible for doing all that is required from the addressee and necessary to exercise the customs clearance in relation to the delivery of Products to the country indicated by the Purchaser. 6 10. The Seller reserves the right to change the prices of Products displayed on the Store website, add information about new goods, start and terminate promotional actions on the website, and hold and alter sales. The right of the Seller referred to in the preceding sentence does not affect orders submitted before the date on which the change of price, promotional action terms or sales terms entered into force. The Seller will notify the Purchaser about any special terms of promotional actions or sales. Promotions do not combine, unless the terms of promotion state otherwise. X. DELIVERY 1. Products offered at the Store are free from physical and legal defects. 2. The Seller does not offer a quality guarantee for sold Products. 3. The Seller is liable towards the Consumer for physical defects under statutory warranty insofar as specified in provisions of the Civil Code of 23 April 1964 (Dz. U. 2014, item 121, as amended). 4. The risk of accidental loss or destruction of the Product passes to the Consumer when the Product is handed over to them by the Seller or a carrier acting on the Seller's behalf. If the Consumer has chosen the carrier on their own and the Seller had no say in this decision, the risk passes to the Consumer when the Product is handed over to the carrier. 5. Upon receipt of the Product, the Consumer is advised to inspect the delivered parcel in the presence of the carrier, in particular as to whether the Product is complete and undamaged. If any damage or other irregularity of the Product is discovered, the parties are advised to draw up a damage report. The failure of the Consumer to draw up a damage report does not prevent a potential complaint from being filed or processed, but may limit the Consumer's ability to prove that the damage existed as of the moment of delivery. 6. The Consumer may file a complaint concerning the Product by notifying the Seller of discovery of a physical or legal defect in the Product. 7. The Consumer loses the right to file a complaint if they fail to notify the Seller within one year from discovery of the Product defect or within two years from handing the article over to the Consumer, whichever is earlier. 8. The complaint may be filed by means of an electronic form available at the Store, by electronic mail at the address hello@flamecase.com or in writing at the Seller's correspondence address. 9. To streamline complaint processing, Consumers are advised to return the Product being the object of the complaint together with the Proof of Purchase or its copy attached. Failure to attach the Proof of Purchase or its copy does not, however, prevent the complaint from being processed. 10. If the Product is defective, the Consumer may: a. demand that the Product be replaced with another non-defective Product, or b. demand that the defect be removed, or c. make a statement demanding that the price be lowered, or d. make a statement rescinding the agreement. 11. The Consumer may not make a statement demanding that the price be lower or rescinding the agreement if the Seller has replaced the Product with another non-defective Product or removed the defect immediately and without undue hardships for the Consumer. This limitation does not apply if the Product has previously been replaced or repaired by the Seller or the Seller did not comply with its obligation to replace the Product with another non-defective Product or remove the defect. 12. The Consumer may demand that the Product be replaced with another non-defective Product in lieu of defect removal offered by the Seller or demand defect removal in lieu of replacement. This right is not applicable if restoring the Product to conformity with the agreement using a method chosen by the Consumer is impossible or requires excessive costs in comparison with the method proposed by the Seller. 13. The Consumer may not rescind the agreement if the defect of the Product is not essential. 14. The Seller may refuse to repair the Product or replace it with a non-defective Product as requested by the Consumer if restoring a defective Product to conformity with the agreement using a method chosen by the Consumer is not possible or requires excessive costs in comparison with an alternate method of doing so. 15. If the Consumer exercises its rights under statutory warranty for physical or legal defects of a Product and demands that the Product be replaced or rescinds the agreement, the Customer ships the Product to the Seller at the cost of the latter. The Product being the object of the complaint should then be returned at the Seller's correspondence address. 16. The Seller processes the complaint immediately, not later however than within 14 days from the date on which it was filed. 17. The Seller answers the complaint at its discretion either: a. in writing at the Consumer's address, or b. electronically at the e-mail address stated by the Consumer in the complaint. XII. OTHER COMPLAINTS CONCERNING STORE SERVICES 1. You may file a complaint if the Seller does not offer the services provided for in, or offers them in violation of, these Terms of Use. 2. A complaint concerning Store services should contain: a. your identity details, b. the subject of the complaint and the period to which it applies, c. circumstances justifying the complaint, d. your signature, if the complaint is filed in writing. 3. If the complaint does not meet the formal conditions referred to above, the Seller may, at its discretion, leave the complaint unprocessed or ask you to provide missing data within no more than 7 days, advising you that if you do not provide the data by the set deadline, your complaint will be left unprocessed. 4. The Seller may leave the complaint unprocessed, if: a. the complaint refers to a matter explained in these Terms of Use, its appendices, extra materials or online Store help. In such case, the reply to the complaint will refer you to the relevant document, b. the complaint refers to a matter already explained in response to an earlier complaint of yours. In such case, the reply to the complaint will refer you to the relevant correspondence, 8 c. the complaint originates from a third party who does not possess the appropriate authorization or power of attorney, d. the complaint has been filed more than 30 days following discovery of grounds for complaint. 5. The Seller notifies the Purchaser immediately of its decision to leave the complaint unprocessed. 6. The Seller will forward any complaints sent to the Store and concerning services provided by third parties via the Store to the relevant third party responsible for resolving the complaint. 7. The Seller processes the complaint immediately, not later however than within 14 days from the date on which it was filed. 8. The Seller answers the complaint at its discretion either: a. in writing at the Consumer's address, b. electronically at the e-mail address stated by the Consumer, c. by phone. 9. Consumers are hereby advised that they also have the opportunity to resolve complaints and pursue contractual claims out of court, including: a. filing a motion with a permanent amicable consumer court associated with the Trade Inspection to resolve a dispute resulting from a concluded agreement. b. filing a motion with the Regional Head of Trade Inspection to initiate mediation for the purpose of amicably resolving a dispute between the Purchaser and the Seller. c. apply for the free of charge assistance of a county (municipal) consumer ombudsman or a community-based organization whose statute tasks include protection of consumers (such as the Consumer Federation or Polish Consumers' Association).

XIII. RETURNS. RIGHT OF WITHDRAWAL 1. Consumers who have entered into an agreement may, within 14 calendar days, withdraw from it without giving a reason and without incurring costs, except for the costs specified in points 7 and 8 of this paragraph. It is sufficient to send the statement before the end of that deadline. In particular, a declaration of withdrawal may be submitted in writing or by e-mail to the addresses given above in these Terms of Use. 2. You will find a template withdrawal form in an appendix to these Terms of Use. You may use the template, however it is not mandatory. 3. The term of withdrawal begins when you or a person you indicated picks the Product up from the carrier. If the contract covers a number of Products that are supplied separately, in part or in parts, the term of withdrawal begins when the last product, lot or part is picked up. 4. We will return to you all your payments without delay, no later than in 14 calendar days from the day we receive your withdrawal notice, including Product delivery costs (except for additional costs resulting from a method of delivery you chose which is not the cheapest regular delivery method available in the Store). We will make the refund using the same method of payment as the one you used, unless you explicitly agree to a different method, in which case you will never bear any additional charges. If we have not offered to pick up the Product from you, we can refrain from making the refund until we receive from you the Product or a proof of dispatch, whichever is earlier. 5. You are obliged to immediately, but not later than within 14 calendar days of the day you withdraw from the contract, return the Product to us or give it to a person we authorized, unless we have offered to pick up the Product ourselves. It is sufficient to send the Product before the end of that deadline. 6. You are liable for any loss of Product value which may result from using the Product beyond the extent necessary to determine its nature, characteristics and functionality. 7. If you chose a delivery method other than the cheapest delivery method offered by us, we are not obliged to refund the additional costs. 8. You are obliged to cover the direct costs of returning the Product (including the cost of sending the Product to us). 9. You do not have the right to withdraw from a distance sale contract if you purchased Products which are not pre-manufactured, and are manufactured according to your specifications, such as:

- a. Products on which we printed a Design you created using the Project Wizard described in Section VI of the Terms and Conditions (for example phone cases, tablet cases on which we printed a picture you provided to us);
- b. Products on which we printed a Design selected by you from the existing Projects available in the Store (for example phone cases, tablet cases on which we printed a picture available in the Partner Store).

10. Please note that the fact that you do not have the right to withdraw from the contract does not exclude our liability for defective Products.

11. In the case described in point 9 b above, we may, however, at our sole discretion agree that you return the Product. The request should be sent to us by email to the address given at the beginning of these Terms of Use, stating the reason of return.

XIV. AN ENTREPRENEUR AS A PURCHASER
